“How May We Help You?”

This phrase may sound like a courteous greeting, but at Red Land Library we are so happy to welcome our library members that when they stop by to visit, we break out in smiles under our masks. We began Phase 4 of our reopening on August 31, which allows us to add more services. The two OPAC's will be available to search the catalog, DVD's will be available to borrow again, self-serve copier is available, and restrooms will be open to the public. We will resume IdentoGO fingerprint service on a limited schedule.

Karen, "Bear", and Nancy say hello and welcome to the library.

We will continue collection browsing and curbside pickup in our vestibule. We are also happy to say that we will have additional hours. Monday returns to 10am - 5pm; and Saturdays will be open 10am - 1 pm beginning Sept. 12. The Friends will also have a sidewalk book sale on Sat, Sept. 12 during library hours. We will not have public computers or any in-library programs throughout the fall.

Some new adult programs may interest our readers. We launch a monthly Virtual Book Club called Murder at the Library on Monday, Sept. 21. This countywide venture will include a book discussion followed by an author event on Wed, Sept. 30. Both require registration.

In partnership with Northeastern York County History In Preservation (NeyChip.com), we have a nice line-up of programs to be held on the third Monday evening of each month. Scott Mingus will present the first session on Monday, September 21.

The Summer Read on Thursdays continues with two more programs in September and the author event on Sept. 29. Please see the calendar for registration for events.

Story times and some fun STEM programs for families continue online . Check Facebook for our latest additions.

Please stop by and say hello, even if you are only picking up your items in the vestibule. We will smile through our masks and wave hello.

Thanks! Karen, Nancy, Kari, and Yai

Murder in the Library Virtual Book Club

Before you wonder “Who done it?” or what atrocity happened within our stacks, we need to let you know that Murder At the Library is the name of a new Virtual Book Club beginning on Monday, September 21 at 7pm. Angela Orwig will lead the book discussion. On Wednesday, September 30, attendees will enjoy a Zoom visit with the author. Both countywide Zoom programs will be open to all mystery-loving readers. The Virtual Book Club will then be held on the last Tuesday and Wednesday of each month from October onward.

Please reserve your Zoom seat in the events calendar at yorklibraries.org.

Bluff by Jane Stanton Hitchcock, this month's choice, is stacked like a deck of cards. Really, the author has dealt us a full house of twists and turns as we meet the characters and try to find some empathy in all the drama of the murder and murderer. Download the eBook on Axis 360 or check out a print copy at your library. Read the book, join us for the discussion and hear the author. I bet she has a great poker face!

Zoom into History

North Eastern York County History In Preservation, AllVets of York and Red Land Community Library have partnered to bring you some of your favorite Historians and speakers this Fall. Pull up your computer or IPAD with a comfortable chair and join us for a series of free Zoom programs. No masks required and social distance will be in miles. Register at yorklibraries.org.

Monday, September 21 at 6:30 p.m. - Scott Mingus

“Civil War Murder Mysteries of York County”

Four interesting murder stories from York County— a Louisiana Confederate soldier, a Union courier, a dead man in a field, and the killing of a black Confederate slave.

Virtual Craft Domi-Nation

Fall sessions will begin
Thursday, Sept. 10 at 6:30pm

Crafts for teens and tweens with our friend Domi. Ages 10 and up. Program held on the second Thursday of the month on Facebook.

Do you have a first grade student?

Our GOAL program—Grade One at the Library—will be going online this year. First graders in York County schools will be receiving applications for library cards from their teachers. Once they receive their card, the first three times they use their card at the library they will receive a prize!

Check with your child's teacher for the card application.

Grab and Go kits will be available beginning the middle of September. The second Monday of each month you can stop in and pick up a LEGO Challenge kit, and the third Monday of each month we will have a craft kit ready for you to pick up.
