Library News

COOKING THE BOOKS: We've had to postpone this popular event but look forward to rescheduling it as soon as possible. Please hold onto your tickets if you've already purchased them.

NEW IN-LIBRARY MATERIALS: We're placing orders for new and forthcoming books, audiobooks, and DVDs. Let us know if there's a title or author you'd like. We can order it and even place a hold for you! Contact us at Hufnagel@yorklibraries.org.

AXIS 360: We have some terrific news for our readers who are ready for something new to read. Our York County Libraries' collection specialists are adding popular and interesting titles to Axis 360. You can find Axis 360 on our website at yorklibraries.org or by downloading the App to your device. New books will be added weekly, so be sure to check back for your next great read. Our tip: try searching "recently added" to find the latest catalog additions!

HOOPLA: Another digital service you'll want to explore through our website is Hoopla. It offers a wide variety of movies, music, audiobooks, ebooks, and comics. There are no holds or waiting. The items are instantly available and free to borrow via the web or the Hoopla App. As an added service to libraries and readers, Hoopla is providing over 1,000 titles for unlimited borrowing that are above and beyond the typical three items per month loan. We hope you'll check it out.

Click "Donate" & choose HUFNAGEL!

How will I know when the library reopens?

We'll post on our website & Facebook, let the media know, and put up signs. And send up a cheer!

Library Closing Update

Under a directive from the Office of Commonwealth Libraries, all Pennsylvania libraries will remain closed indefinitely.

We'll update the community as new information becomes available.

Greetings from the Hufnagel Library Staff

I hope everyone is hanging in there. I miss my library, I miss handing books to our smiling patrons, I even miss processing ILLs !!

I'm a glass half full kind of gal so even though I'm bored, I am grateful to be healthy, still on speaking terms with my husband Joe (so far), and although I'm eating too much chocolate, I'm walking every day. Luckily, I can still do my volunteer job exercising dogs at Animal Rescue and I hope we will all be back at our jobs at the Hufnagel Library soon !!

Stay healthy, we miss all of you.

Kathy

Polly: I am attempting this in my daily practice and I wish for everyone to stay safe.

I'm sharing this poem, hoping it gives everyone a lift and renewed sense of possibility during these challenging days. Take care and stay well, Suzanne

"Spring Morning" by Marion Strobel (1922)

O day—if I could cup my hands and drink of you,
And make this shining wonder be
A part of me!
O day! O day!
You lift and sway your colors on the sky
Till I am crushed with beauty. Why is there
More of reeling sunlit air
Than I can breathe? Why is there sound
In silence? Why is a singing wound
About each hour?
And perfume when there is no flower?
O day! O Day! How may I press
Nearer to loveliness?

Spring flowers along the Rail Trail across from the library.

Hello friends,

I miss seeing all my friends from story time and Home-grown Learners. Our building is closed, but the library is still here for you. Visit yorklibraries.org, click on What can I do?, then Online resources for kids. Here you will find many resources for all ages. For my littlest friends, we have Bookflix. Kids can read and listen to picture books. For school-aged kids, check out Power Library. And of course you can still download books from Axis 360 and get movies, music, audiobooks, and comic books on Hoopla. Enjoy exploring!

Miss Allison

From "When Mother Reads Aloud" (Anonymous)

When Mother reads aloud, far lands seem near and true;
I cross the desert's gleaming sands,
Or hunt the jungle's prowling bands,
Or sail the ocean blue.
Far heights, whose peaks the cold mists shroud,
I scale, when Mother reads aloud.
