INTRODUCTION TO NEARBY RAIL TRAILS

Summer is just around the corner and we need to get out of the house. Let's learn about local options from an expert. Carl Knoch will present a program on Wednesday, May 15 from 6:30-8:00. Join us to learn about rail trails within 50 miles of home.

Mr. Knoch has been a member of the York County Rail Trail Authority for 25 years, and has been a consultant for the National Rails to Trails Conservancy.

He is an authority on rail trails from Pennsylvania to Maine.

This program is part of our Third Wednesday Series

SPRING 2024 ART EXHIBIT

The exhibit features the work of local artists Glenn Grove and Frank Wright. Glenn Grove is a Stewartstown native who has lived in Delta for more than 40 years. His professional career of 38 years as art teacher and art department chairman included recognition as Hartford County Art Teacher of the Year in 1982. Glenn obtained his bachelor's and master's degree in fine arts from Maryland Institute College of Art in Baltimore, and in 1973 he was a Fulbright scholar and studied in Belgium and The Netherlands.

Red Lion resident Frank Wright has also been painting most of his life. Frank started painting at York College in 1975 and dabbled in it during his 33-year work career. He is self-taught with just one college course and Bob Ross videos. Frank's paintings were exhibited at the Glen Rock library last year and can be found at Framers Workshop in York. The exhibit will be in place in the library's Quiet Reading Room through mid May.
